Vancouver, Canada

Vancouver, Canada

Stunning scenery - such as Grouse Mountain and Capilano Suspension Bridge - and incredible wildlife are just some highlights of this vibrant, beautiful city.

Skagway, Alaska

Gateway to the Klondike, with highlights including White Summit Pass and the cable Yukon Suspension Bridge. The gold rush coastal town of Skagway, Alaska, was previously a lawless Wild West outpost.

Hubbard Glacier, Alaska (cruise by)

The largest tidal glacier in North America, Hubbard Glacier is a rarity; an icy abyss, formed over centuries, where nature, not man, is King. Only by cruising alongside it can you appreciate the majesty of its colossal scale.

Glacier Bay, Alaska

With snow-capped peaks, abundant wildlife and shimmering glaciers, it's no wonder Glacier Bay National Park is the crowning jewel of Alaska's Inside Passage. A Glacier Bay National Park cruise reveals some of the planet's most remarkable tidewater glaciers.

Ketchikan, Alaska

Tiny Ketchikan is just three miles long and three blocks wide, but here you can be sure to find Alaska's busiest waterfront buzzing with boat planes, fishing boats, pleasure craft, and busy fishermen. Once colonized by Tlingit and Haida tribes, Ketchikan is a thriving fishing town with colorful stilted houses, a rich Alaskan culture and a throng of trawlers hauling in fresh crab and salmon.
