Copenhagen, Denmark

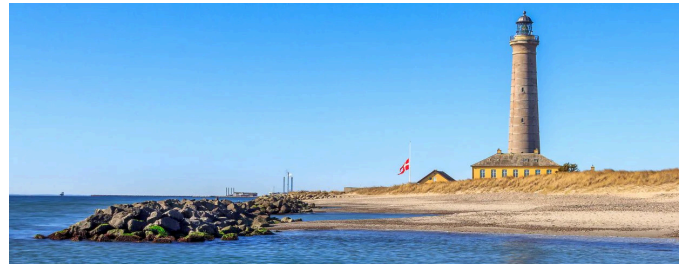

Copenhagen, Denmark

Copenhagen boasts some of the most delightful architecture in Northern Europe. Stroll along the old harbor, lined with cafés and restaurants. Browse the superb shops on the Stroget, or savor the taste of local delicacies while wandering the paths of Tivoli Gardens.

Skagen, Denmark

The red and yellow clapboard houses of Skagen occupy a large spit of sand at Denmark's northerly reaches. Many people visit Grenen, the scenic end point of the dunes where two beaches meet.

Oslo, Norway

Oslo has a modest population of 550,000 but is one of the largest capital cities in the world in terms of area. The hills and lakes of its surrounding countryside are a paradise for winter sports lovers. The city has a sophisticated, yet cozy charm, with a blend of 19th and 20th century buildings.

Tallinn, Estonia

Few cities in the world are as diverse as Tallinn. One of Europe's most historic capitals, its picturesque old town is populated with beautiful medieval buildings. Beyond the Old Town's cobbled streets and towering buildings you'll find hip cafés, independent galleries and small boutiques in the footprint of former warehouses.

Helsinki, Finland

Sail into Helsinki, past the island fortress of Suomenlinna, to find a clean and bustling capital city of neo-classical architecture. Take in the fabulous Senate Square and copper dome of Rock Church.

Visby, Sweden

Visby is a beautiful, quaint town of 20,000 residents, home to ancient forts, churches and winding streets lined with cafés and cozy cottages. Visit scenic Dalmansporten, site of the 12th-century St. Mary Church, the only one of Visby's earliest churches to still be in use today.
